DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-6, drawn to profiling participants and segmenting these participants into a subgroup based on a first taxonomy, classified in class 705, subclass 10.
 - II. Claims 7-19 and 33-36, drawn to identifying a first subgroup and delineating a second subgroup within the first subgroup based on a characteristic, classified in class 705, subclass 10.
 - III. Claims 20-27, drawn to receiving a message and identifying a subgroup of participants to receive the message based on two or more characteristics, classified in class 705, subclass 8.
 - IV. Claims 28-32, drawn to receiving a first participant's participation in the enterprise and excluding this participant from a message sent to the participant's group based on his role within the subgroup, classified in class 705, subclass 7.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I, II, III, and IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination I has separate utility such as creating a subgroup of the participants based on a characteristic (no delineating a second subgroup as per II, no routing of messages as per III, and no excluding a participant based on his role per IV). Subcombination II has separate utility such as delineating a second subgroup within the first subgroup (no creation of a first subgroup as per I (it is already in existence), no routing of messages as per III, and no excluding a participant based on his role per IV). Subcombination I has separate utility such as routing messages based on at least two characteristics of participants (no creation of a first subgroup based on one characteristic as per I, no delineating a second subgroup as per II, and no excluding a participant based on his role per IV). Finally, subcombination IV has separate utility such as excluding this participant from a message sent to the participant's group based on his role within the subgroup (no creation of a first subgroup based on one characteristic as per I, no delineating a second subgroup as per II, and no based on at least two characteristics as per III). See MPEP § 806.05(d).

3. The examiner has required restriction between subcombinations usable together. Where applicant elects a subcombination and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

Restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper because all these inventions listed in this action are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious search and examination burden if restriction were not required because one or more of the following reasons apply:

- (a) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification;
- (b) the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter;
- (c) the inventions require a different field of search (for example, searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries);
- (d) the prior art applicable to one invention would not likely be applicable to another invention;
- (e) the inventions are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

4. The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

Art Unit: 3623

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
